Handsome Clothes for Boys

Truly the saying, "Handsome is as handsome does." to boys' clothing. Mothers judge it, good or bad, not by how it "looks," but by what it "does"—how it "wears." Brill clothing for boys "wears." It is made of the best fabrics ever put into garments at the price. It has style because it is designed, cut and tailored by an expert organization devoted only to making boys garments along new ideas—one of which is that the boy himself. as well as his mother, has a proper pride in his appearance. In pricing boys' clothing we deliberately lower our percentage of profit in order to make the strongest appeal for your trade, because we want your boy to grow up with us as a permanent Brill once despited credit on the instalment plan is now the Great National Necessity.

Years ago the poor man could not furnish a home save by degrees. The salaried man had no credit. This was given only to a favored few who were rated in Dun's and Bradstreet's. Without rating—no home. As a matter of fact the people who needed credit could not get it. Without a home, and a comfortable one, the average man is ill at ease. With a home, he is settled, better able to do his work, and a better citizen generally. The merchant found this out and established the instalment plan. We have built upon it, improved it, dignified it and robbed it of its first horrors, so that it has become, first, decent, then acceptable, then desirable and then a necessity. That is the kind of credit plan Spear operates. We are proud of it. We gain friends by its use and they gain homes. They are better citizens—we are greater merchants. Everybody is satisfied, and the SUN SHINES BRIGHTER FOR ALL.

No. 16. THE WORLD'S 'GIBSON GALLERY

(New Gibson heads will be presented in the Morning World several days each week. Watch for them and cut them out for your scrapbook.)

In next Sunday's Chas. Dana Gibson picture the drawing of the girl will repay close study. It looks as if the artist had sketched it from a nude model, and then carefully clothed it. There are some charming curves about this body, those of the shoulders and arms being especially noteworthy. Those of the neck and bosom are scarcely less pretty, and those of the waist and hips are very graceful.

SERVE STATE

is the title of the next picture. It is both beautiful and satirical. It is in Mr. Gibson's best vein. This picture, a separate art supplement, on fine paper, size 10x15, will be given every reader,
